

COLLEGE DEPARTMENT.

College.

They say Ashland University now.

The new catalogue is now ready for mailing. Send for a copy, and send your children to school here.

The University opens September 4th. If you are going to school do not forget the date.

All members of our church should take an interest in securing patronage for our school.

Bro. S. E. Shook is now in the Valley (Miami Valley) visiting his wife's folks, friends, working in the interests of the College and permanently settling up his business to move to Ashland for good. He is one of the best Boarding Hall managers there has been at the College, and he will return in about two weeks to prepare for the school work and put the dormitory in condition.

If you find it most convenient send your subscription or donation, to this office for the University.

The discipline of the boarding hall will be improved and principally ladies will room there.

Bro. Thos. Foltz expects to keep a students boarding house the coming winter.

Send in your contribution and have your name published with the rest.

Through the special efforts of the EVANGELIST over two thousand dollars have been raised for the College. No one can say that the paper has not been faithful to the College and our educational interests.

W. R. Thomas, of Altamont, Cal., sends a dollar for the College.

Bro. Woods, of Yorkville, Ill., sends two dollars for the College. Thanks to him.

Malinda Stickler, of Davis, O., sends two dollars for the College.

John Kurtz, of Williamsport, Dak., sends two dollars for the College. He feels a great interest in it.

E. L. Brown, of Rockwell City, Kansas, has paid his pledge.

Some time ago we reported $60 donation sent in by Bro. Frantz, of Ocoya, Illinois. It was made up of donations by the following persons:

William Rutz, $10; H. J. Frantz, $10; W. D. Frantz, $10; M. J. Frantz, $10; Lula and Minnie Frantz, $10; Mamie and Frank Frantz, $10.

Things in General, Some Things in Particular.

Our Home Work.—Our business meeting developed the fact that our members are still interested in the work, notwithstanding the summer heat, which is not so bad as it might be. The Sunday School, Bro. Roberts Sup't, took the young folks to the park, which was enjoyed. The older ones seemed to take as much pleasure in the day as the children. In fact all were children together. Such trips are refreshing, and I do not see why there should be any thought of taking long journeys to picnic when we have so near such a beautiful spot as Fairmount Park. The church gave me permission to be away over Sunday. So with my little girl, said goodbye to home folks and started for Harpers Ferry.

A Sad Funeral.—All Funerals to me are sad, this one especially so. J. C. Stewart, a minister in the Methodist church died the day after I reached home, and was buried on Friday. By request I took part in the services. He was my first pastor, and indeed he received me into the church and encouraged me to enter the ministry, hence there was a melancholy pleasure in taking part in the last sad ceremonies. Some months ago, from the same church, we buried father, and the services over one brought fresh to mind the other. "Ah, well, for us all some sweet hope lies Deeply buried from human eyes. And in the hereafter angels may Roll from the grave the stone away."

Sentinels On The Outpost.—Before the funeral I walked up the railroad some three or four miles, and called on Sister Snader, one of our members who is separated from our Washington county friends, hence does not enjoy church privileges as she would like; but while it is not convenient to reach the church, she, with her family, work at home. A Sunday School is held in a school house near, of which her son Walter is Sup't, and if I mistake not, several of her daughters are teachers. Bro. Bowman is pastor. There are six members here in working order. They have a claim on the church and should be attended to. The church in Washington county should attend to this point. It is worthy of their attention. Sister Snader's post office used to be Urilla, but there has been a station built and I think it is now probably Engle's Switch; but suppose you drop a line, Sister, and tell us for certain. My visit was enjoyed.

Waynesboro, Pa.—This was my objective point, which was reached on Saturday. On Sunday I preached in the M. E. church to large and attentive audiences, and on Tuesday night I lectured in the academy of music to a full house on "How to get married and then be happy." It was for the benefit of the W. C. T. U. My headquarters were at the home of Bro. John H. Gehr. I was entertained by Bro. Snyder, a so-called Conservative, Bro. Good, a so-called Old Order, and Sister Frick, a so-called Reformed, and found them, like the so-called Progressives, all alike, good, sociable people on the way to heaven. "Pilgrims going home." I also called on Brethren Fahrney and Norris. Sister Norris is a daughter of Father Isaac Price, of precious memory. I also met her sister, Miss Price, and her daughter Laura. The visit was much enjoyed, and I wish I could have remained longer. The Lutheran minister called on me and the M. E. minister, just recovering from illness, introduced me to the audience on the night of the lecture. The visit was the means of doing me good, giving me a change of air, scene, surroundings, etc. If congregations knew how much good a Sunday off does a man, they would insist on his hiding himself now and then.

Broken Fetters or The Light of All Ages on Intoxicating Drink.—This is the name of a new temperance book which I can recommend. It is a splendid book to sell, much better than either of the lives of the presidential candidates. The full moreco binding is $5, and I have made arrangements to bring it before the people with The Story of Jesus for a short time. For $5 we will send a copy of Broken Fetters and one hundred copies of The Story of Jesus. Not more than one hundred packages will go out at that price, as I want to get the plates and costly illustrations paid for. One hundred thousand copies of The Story of Jesus must be sold, and I want every reader of the EVANGELIST to help me now. We cannot push our work without money, and if we can get money for our church work and do good in other ways at the same time, we ought to jump into work with our sleeves rolled up to the elbow. Never mind the sunburn, so we get hearts to burning. "To be continued in our next."

JOHN DUKE McFADEN.

July 24th, 1888.—Began work here a week ago. Opened up in the city hall with a lecture and have since been preaching the distinctive doctrines of the church. Our audiences have ranged in numbers from two hundred and fifty to perhaps eight hundred. The latter number being in attendance on Tuesday evening. Last night after the last doctrinal sermon had been preached, we extended an invitation, when seven came forward for membership. There are others near the threshold and we hope to obtain their confession before we close. Notwithstanding the fact that a Dunkard church holds its services regularly in this town and has a church house rented, our doctrine was almost entirely unknown to the people. But they know it now and many are its friends and intellectual adherents.

July 26th.—Closed meetings here Tuesday night with eight public confessions. Last night organized a church, with nineteen members and sure prospects of others inside of a very few weeks.

Bro. J. H. Burnworth was chosen pastor by the unanimous vote of the new church, and will enter upon his work at once. The church is composed of a progressive, wide-awake, intelligent class and will exert a growing influence. There is not a drone in the hive. We closed fully a week too soon, excepting for the extremely hot weather and the busy season. I begin at Pony Creek tonight. From there I go to Carleton, Neb., then to Colorado for a month's rest.

Last Sunday, July 22nd, was an enjoyable day for the members of the Bethel church. They met in the morning at half past nine o'clock and spent a very pleasant hour in Sunday school work.

After S. S. Rev. Rittgers, of Webb Summit, an M. E. minister, preached an interesting sermon. At the close of the service Bro. Rittgers desired to unite with the Brethren. Bro. Miller had corresponded with him and had also visited him. Bro. Rittgers said he felt that he had been converted, but in our church he saw the way more perfectly, and therefore wished to unite with us. He also wished to retain the office of minister, and as he seemed to have the qualifications of a minister the church was willing to accept him as such. Accordingly in the evening after he was baptized we repaired to the church where he was ordained as a minister of the Brethren church.

After the ordination service, Bro. Miller preached a special sermon to young men. The sermon was excellent. The audience was very large and very attentive. And if the young men, who heard it, would but heed the advice which Bro. Miller gave them, our community would be as a city set on a hill.

Although Bro. Miller is quite a young man he is proving himself a success as a pastor.
